USCIS Issues Revised Employment Authorization Document

By Bruce Buchanan, Partner-in-Charge, Immigration Law Section

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) announced it has revised the Employment Authorization Document (EAD), or Form I-766, to add a machine-readable zone on the back of the card. Starting May 11, USCIS began issuing the revised EAD cards. The USCIS also removed the two-dimensional bar code on the backside of the card and moved the informational box of text to just beneath the magnetic stripe on the card. The revised card retains all of its existing security features. The front of the card remains unchanged.
